

A message from Youssou N'Dour

The concert in Geneva on October 8 for the 60th anniversary of the United Nations gives an excellent opportunity to appeal to all the peoples of the world.

By inviting fellow committed artists to join the constant struggle against the ills that threaten humanity, I wanted the message of ROLL BACK MALARIA to be heard loud and clear. Malaria kills. Its main victims are children and women.

Africa, which is severely affected by this disease, badly needs help to prevent it.

This is why I'd like insecticide-treated bed nets to be made available to everyone exposed to malaria. It means the international community needs to be united and mobilised.

I am confident that the concert on Saturday October 8, committed to a worthy cause, will help achieve our aim.

To those who suffer, here's a message of hope:

FOR THE STAR THAT DIED
TO SHINE ONCE MORE

AND A NEW SUN TO LIGHT
THE DARKENED SKY

FOR LOVE VICTORIOUS
IN A BETTER WORLD

FREE OF DISTRESS,
HORROR AND STRIFE

TRUST AND HOPE IN NATURE

AND IN HER
UNIVERSAL GOODNESS
